ABOUT ME

I'm a Product Designer and Frontend Developer with a passion for building digital products that solve real problems and deliver exceptional user experiences.

I combine design thinking with modern technologies to take ideas from concept to reality. I enjoy working on impactful projects that create value for users and businesses.

I'm constantly learning, experimenting, and improving my craft. My goal is to design products that are not only beautiful, but meaningful, usable, and scalable.

MY PROFESSIONAL JOURNEY

FORGE FLOW MANUFACTURING OPERATIONS PLATFORM

website link : <https://kamsigpt.github.io/Forge-Flow-.com/app.html>:

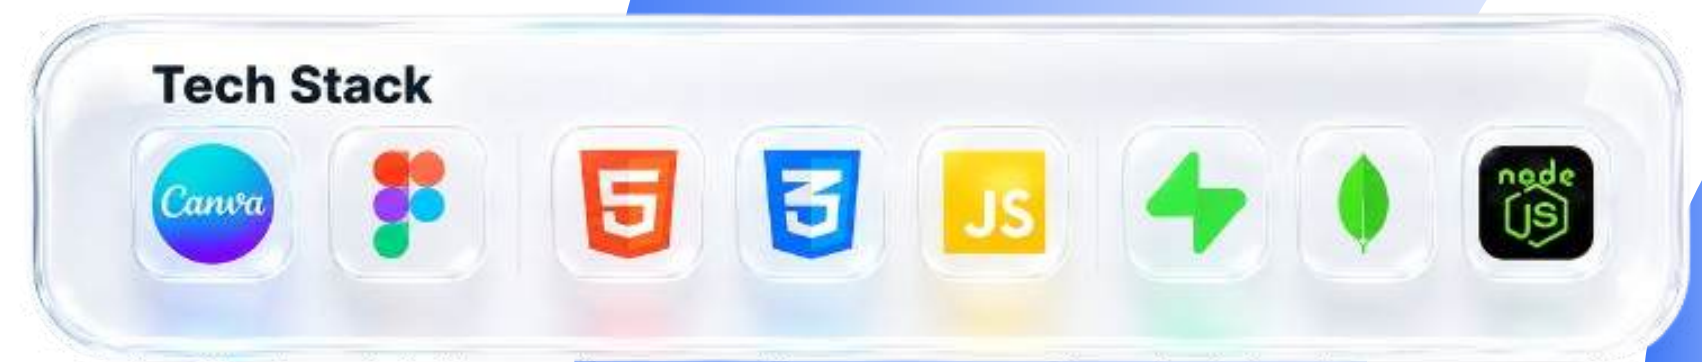

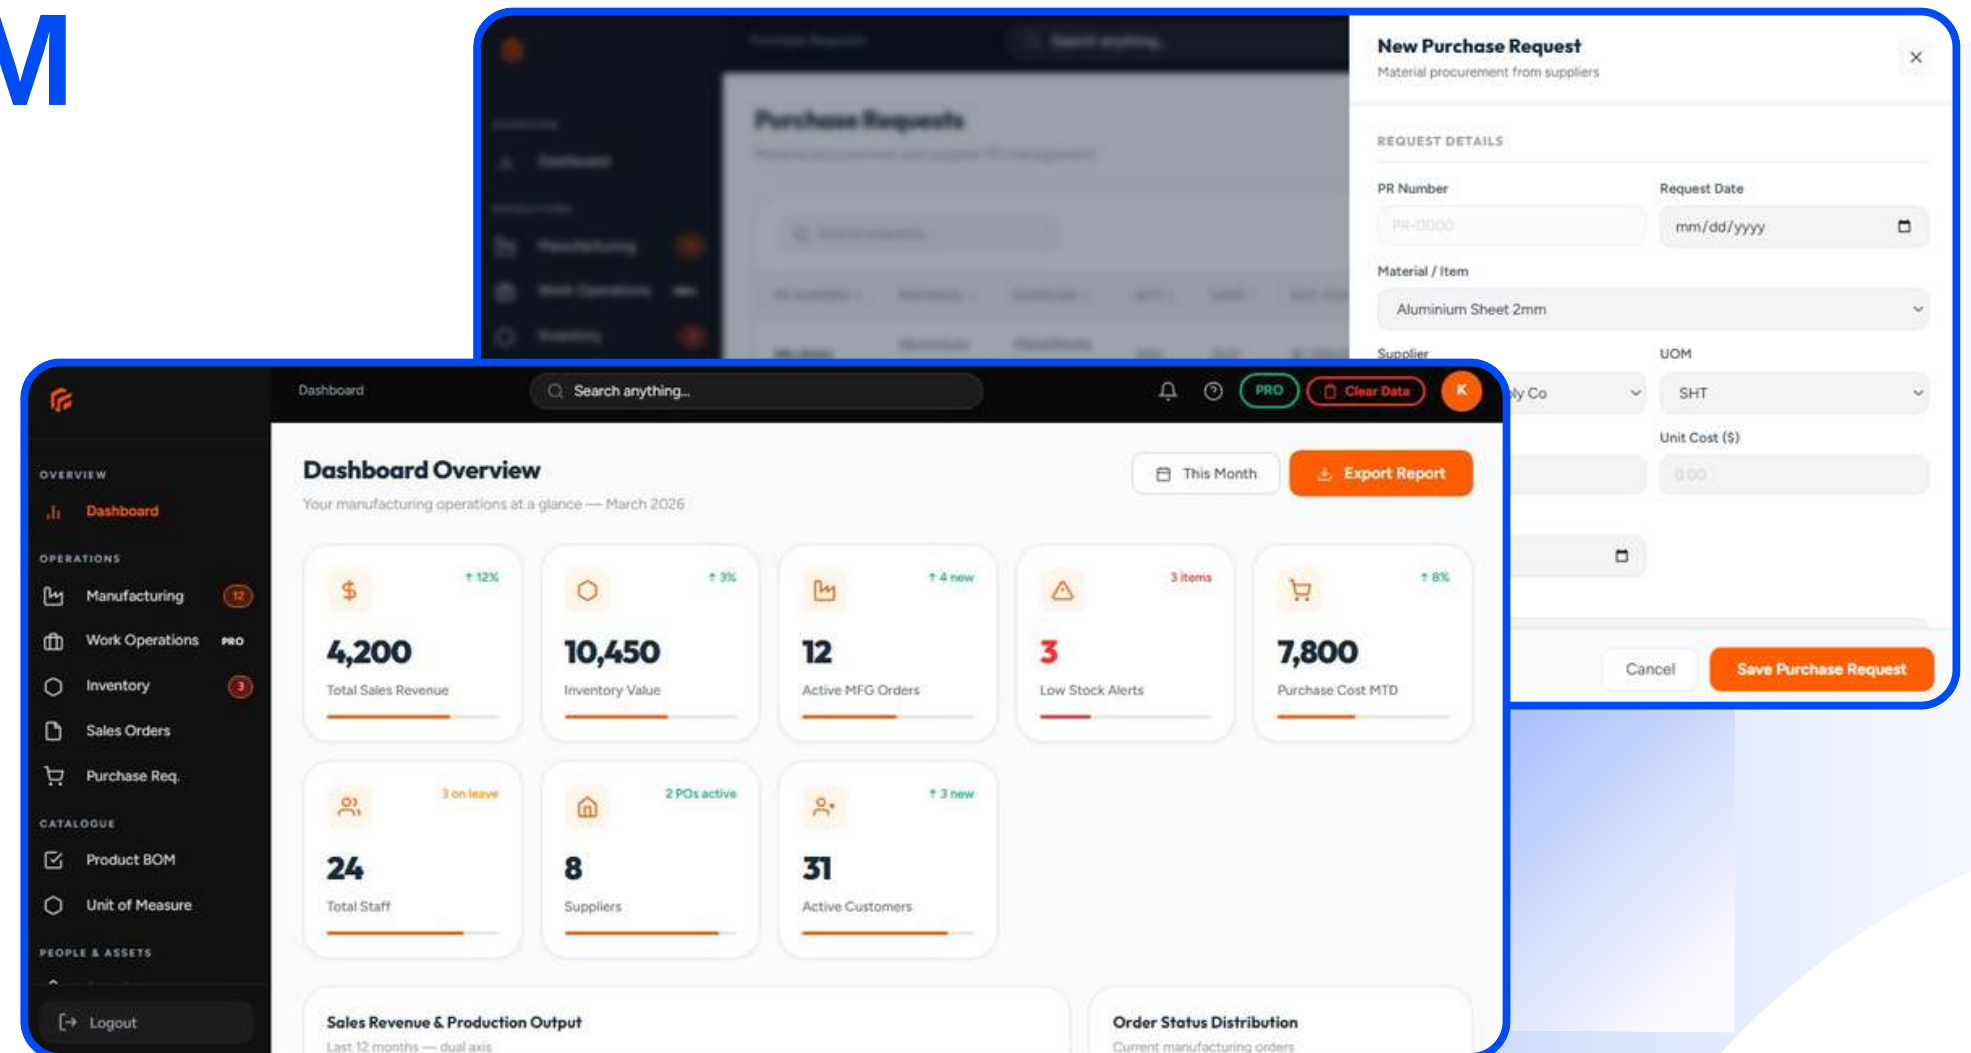

Forge Flow is a comprehensive manufacturing operations platform designed to streamline production workflows, monitor equipment performance, and deliver real-time analytics to plant managers and operators.

Problem: Fragmented tools and manual reporting caused costly delays and poor visibility across the production floor.

Solution & Key Highlights:

- Unified dashboard for real-time production monitoring
- Predictive maintenance alerts reducing downtime by 35%
- Role-based access for operators, managers & executives

Tools: Figma, React, Node.js, PostgreSQL

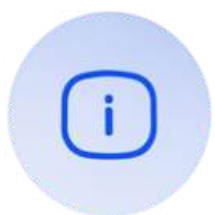

DESIGN & DEVELOPMENT PROCESS

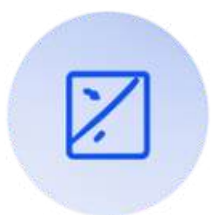

Research

Studied industry workflows, competitor platforms and user pain points.

Information Architecture

Structured modules, features and user flows for seamless experience.

Wireframes

Created low-fidelity wireframes to validate layout and functionality.

UI Design

Designed a clean, modern interface focused on clarity and productivity.

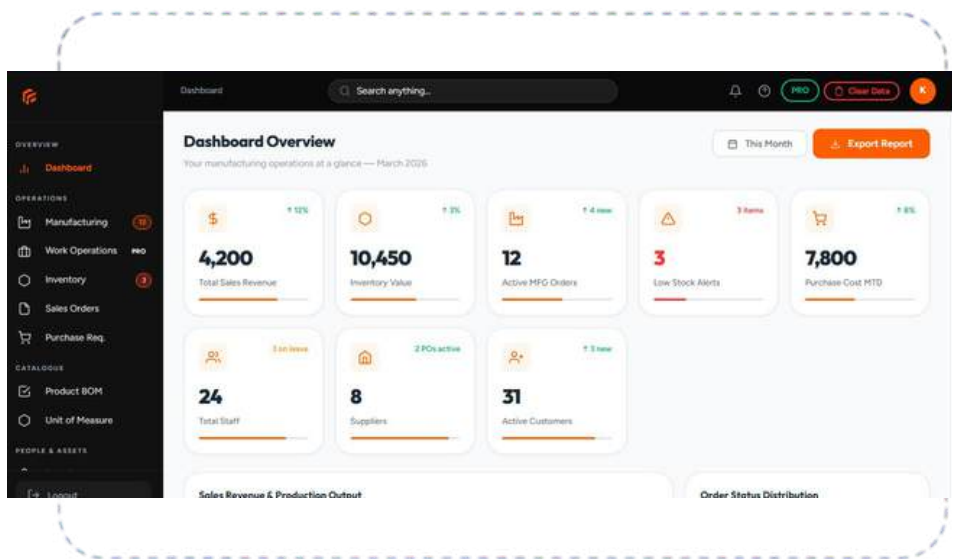

Development

Built the platform using HTML, CSS, JavaScript and Supabase.

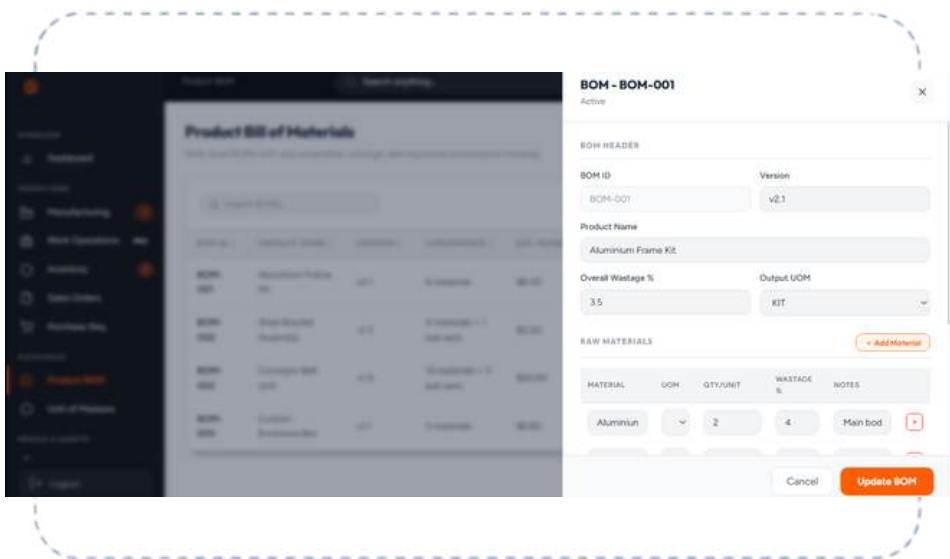

Testing & Launch

Tested across devices, optimized performance and deployed.

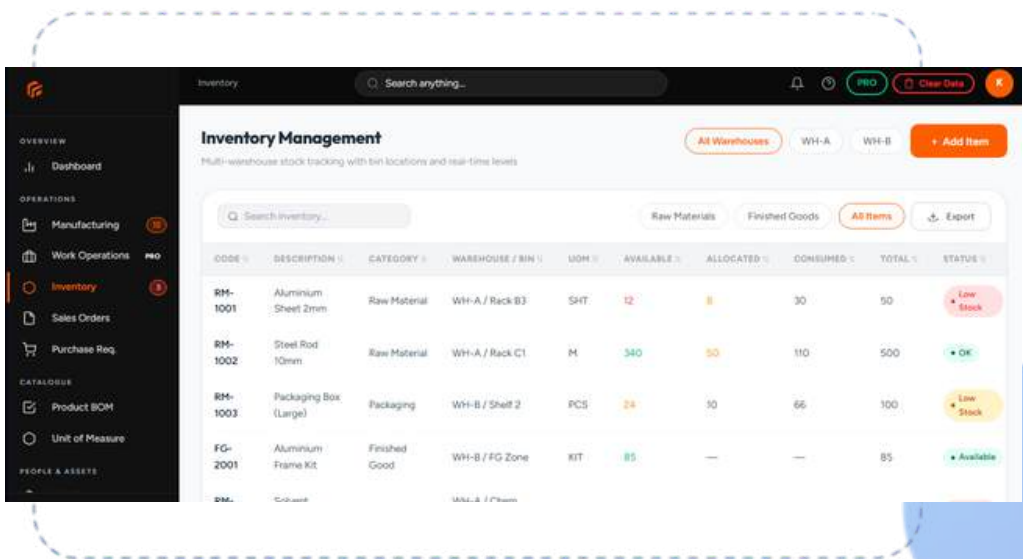

Dashboard

Real-time overview of key metrics and performance.

Production Tracking

Track work orders, production status and progress.

Inventory Management

Manage inventory levels and stock movements.

Curio
